

High School Mathematics Position (XXXX Focus)
Beginning August 2017

The Fuchs Mizrachi Stark High School is seeking a Mathematics Instructor to join our community of learners starting in the fall of 2017. The primary teaching assignment would depend on the candidate's math background and teaching experience. Since Fuchs Mizrachi is on a block schedule, an instructor in the mathematics department teaches three to four classes each semester during the academic year. In addition to teaching, an instructor would be expected to (1) collaborate in bimonthly department meetings, (2) collaborate in a content specific curriculum design team, (3) participate in the department math help center weekly, (4) learn in a monthly interdisciplinary learning community, and (5) participate in our students' experiences outside the classroom by supporting either athletics or serving as a mentor to a small group of students.

Math classrooms at Fuchs Mizrachi are technology-rich and student-centered. Because of this, the ideal candidate would have experience teaching mathematics as an inquiry-based curriculum and have an interest in incorporating technology into the student learning experience. In addition, the ideal candidate would be comfortable guiding students in all courses from Pre-Algebra through Calculus. All instructors at Fuchs Mizrachi embrace the Fuchs Mizrachi teaching and learning model for their students.

Professional development is available for all instructors and is born from goals set by individual teachers and goals established within the mathematics department. Opportunities include traditional off-campus workshops and conferences, graduate work, research with students or colleagues, faculty-developed curriculum projects, and regularly scheduled on-campus teacher forums for learning support, educational technology, and culture.

The Fuchs Mizrachi Stark High School is a vibrant Modern Orthodox Jewish private school in beautiful Beachwood, OH. We offer competitive salary and benefits packages and Fuchs Mizrachi is an Equal Opportunity Employer.
