

School Social Worker / Clinical Mental Health Counselor- job post

Full Job Description

The Fuchs Mizrahi School, located in Beachwood, Ohio, is a leading Modern Orthodox Jewish Day School in North America. Educating students from pre-nursery through 12th grade in general and Judaic studies, we are committed to academic excellence, religious/spiritual fulfillment, and enabling each child to grow into a compassionate, confident and considerate human being. Enriched by their experiences, our students are poised to become the leaders of tomorrow.

We wish to employ a full-time social worker / clinical mental health counselor for grades 6-12 to facilitate our students' academic and emotional growth. Through direct support to our students as well as teacher consultation, the social worker will contribute to the success of our student body.

Job Responsibilities include:

- Work collaboratively with school administrators, nurse, faculty, staff, parents and various community agencies. Information obtained through these resources will be utilized to develop and support students' social, emotional, academic, behavioral and developmental functioning.
- Provide individual and group counseling to students as it relates to academic functioning. Identify and utilize community resources, and act as a liaison between the school and outside agencies.
- Establish rapport to help students engage in the educational process, provide specialized services such as crisis intervention and teacher consultations.
- Support the administration and faculty to improve culture and school climate.
- Develop groups and programs relevant to adolescent skill-building and psychosocial education.
- Maintain appropriate clinical and school records and provide written reports and communications.
